B4 Speaking Mission Exam

Complete two realistic survival-English missions. Your goal is not perfect English. Your goal is to communicate, respond, solve the situation, and keep the conversation alive.

A day abroad: navigate, follow instructions, solve a problem, and repair communication

What happens:

1. The examiner gives you two mission cards.
2. You receive about one minute to prepare each card. You may write keywords, not a full script.
3. You complete each roleplay and answer follow-up questions.
4. The examiner may intentionally speak quickly or give one unclear detail. Use repair language.
5. Your individual score is out of 100, even when you test with a partner.

Scored area	Points	What it means
Communication	30	Complete the mission and make the main message understandable.

 What does ____ mean? · Can you write that down? · Do you mean ____? · So I need to ____, right?

CANDIDATE PREPARATION

A Simple Mission Strategy

1–5 Use this order in every situation

1. Open: greet the person and state why you need help.
2. Explain: give the main problem or purpose.
3. Detail: answer who, what, where, when, or what you have tried.
4. Request: ask for a concrete action or option.
5. Confirm: repeat the solution, time, place, or next step.

Preparation Notes Keywords only

1. Mission A · problem/purpose:2. Two details:3. Request + confirmation:4. Mission B · problem/purpose:5. Two details:6. Request + confirmation:

Candidate notes vary. Examiners should remove full prepared scripts but allow short keywords.

Examiner Setup:

Recommended format: one examiner with one student for 6–8 minutes, or one examiner with a pair for 10–12 minutes. Assign two missions per student. At least one must be a problem-solving mission (1, 2, 4, or 5). Use a different card order for neighboring candidates.

Consistency: ask two follow-up questions per mission and introduce one repair opportunity across the exam. Do not coach, translate, or supply the target phrase. If safety is mentioned in the pharmacy mission, keep the roleplay educational and direct the candidate toward professional help.

MISSION CARD 1

Airport: Your Suitcase Did Not Arrive

A Your role:

You are at the baggage-service desk. Your black suitcase has not arrived. You last saw it when you checked in. It contains clothes and important medication. Explain the problem, answer questions, ask what will happen next, and confirm how and when the airline will contact you.

Mission Checklist Do not write a full script

- ☐ State what has happened.
- ☐ Describe the suitcase and say when you last saw it.
- ☐ Mention the medication.
- ☐ Ask for the next step and confirm contact details.

Possible language: My suitcase hasn't arrived. I last saw it at check-in. It is black and medium-sized. It contains medication. What should I do now? Did you say I will receive a message tonight?

Examiner Role • Baggage Agent:

Ask: “What does the suitcase look like?” and “When did you last see it?” Offer: complete a form; bag may arrive tonight; delivery to hotel. Repair opportunity: say the delivery time quickly once. Listen for Present Perfect + Simple Past, practical detail, request, and confirmation.

MISSION CARD 2

Pharmacy: Explain Your Symptoms

B Your role:

You have had a headache and sore throat since yesterday. You have already drunk water and rested, but you do not feel better. You are allergic to aspirin. Explain the symptoms, answer basic questions, ask whether you need a prescription, and confirm how to use the recommended product.

Mission Checklist Communicate essential health information

- ☐ Explain symptoms and duration.
- ☐ Say what you have already tried.
- ☐ Mention the allergy clearly.
- ☐ Ask and confirm safe next steps.

Possible language: I have had a headache and sore throat since yesterday. I have already rested, but I don't feel better. I am allergic to aspirin. Do I need a prescription? Could you repeat how often I should use it?

Examiner Role · Pharmacist:

Ask: “How long have you felt like this?” and “Have you taken anything?” Acknowledge the allergy and recommend that the student check the label and follow a professional's instructions. Give a simple fictional instruction such as “use the throat lozenge every four hours” solely to test confirmation. Do not give real medical advice.

MISSION CARD 3

Directions: Find the Right PlaceC Your role:

You need a place where you can replace a lost travel card. You do not know the name of the office. Describe the place or person you need, ask for directions from the station, and confirm the route and opening time.

Mission Checklist Identify, navigate, confirm

- ☐ Describe the place or person using where or who.
- ☐ Explain that the place is for replacing a travel card.
- ☐ Ask for step-by-step directions.
- ☐ Confirm the final turn and opening time.

Possible language: I need the place where I can replace a lost travel card, or a person who can help me. How do I get there? So I turn right after the bank and it opens at nine, right?

Examiner Role • Information Volunteer:

Ask: “What do you need to do there?” Give a three-step route and an opening time. Make one direction deliberately unclear so the candidate can request repetition or confirm. Listen for relative clauses, for/to purpose, and accurate route confirmation.

MISSION CARD 4

Hotel: Your Room Is Not Ready

D Your role:

You booked and paid for a quiet room, but you have been told that it is not ready. You have an online meeting in one hour. Explain what was booked, report what the first receptionist told you, ask for two possible solutions, choose one, and confirm the time.

Mission Checklist Explain, compare, decide

- ☐ Explain what was booked and the urgent need.
- ☐ Report what you were told.
- ☐ Ask for two solutions and choose one.
- ☐ Confirm the time and next action.

Possible language: A quiet room was booked and paid for. The first receptionist told me it would be ready at two. I have a meeting in one hour. Could I use another quiet space or change rooms? So the meeting room is available now, right?

Examiner Role • Hotel Receptionist:

Ask: “What were you told?” and “Why do you need the room now?” Offer two options: luggage storage plus a quiet meeting room now, or a different room in 30 minutes. Ask the candidate to choose and confirm. Listen for passive/result language, reported speech, and decision-making.

MISSION CARD 5

Customer Service: Your Card Was Charged Twice

E Your role:

Your card was charged twice for a restaurant order. You noticed after you had checked your bank app. You have the receipt. Explain the sequence, show your evidence, request a refund, and confirm when it will appear.

Mission Checklist Problem, sequence, evidence, resolution

- ☐ State what happened.
- ☐ Explain how and when you noticed.
- ☐ Mention the receipt and request a refund.
- ☐ Confirm the refund time frame.

Possible language: My card was charged twice. I noticed after I had checked my bank app. Here is the receipt. Could the second charge be refunded? Did you say the refund will appear within five business days?

Examiner Role • Service Agent:

Ask: “When did you notice?” and “What evidence do you have?” Offer a refund within five business days and ask the candidate to confirm an email address. Say the time frame quickly once to create a repair opportunity if one has not occurred elsewhere.

Teacher Operations · Run the Exam Reliably with VolunteersBefore exam day:

1. Print candidate cards separately from examiner sheets.
2. Brief evaluators with the rubric and score two sample performances together.
3. Prepare a quiet station, timer, card rotation, and waiting-room review task.
4. Decide whether candidates test individually or in pairs; never give a shared score.

Standard examiner script: “Hello. You will complete two short missions. You may ask me to repeat or speak more slowly. Mistakes are okay; keep communicating. You have one minute to read your first card and write keywords. Ready?” After the first mission: “Thank you. Now let’s move to the second situation.” At the end: “Thank you. The exam is complete.”

Fairness rules:

- Use the same number of follow-up questions and repair opportunities for all candidates.
- Do not correct language during the performance.
- Do not lower pronunciation scores for accent; score intelligibility.
- Record observable evidence before choosing a band.
- If two evaluators differ by more than 10 points, review the evidence together.
- Offer an accessible alternative format when a documented need makes the standard procedure inappropriate.
